Dear colleagues,

The University of Ljubljana is pleased to announce the Erasmus+ Blended Intensive Programme (BIP): Mastering EU-Funded Projects: Skills for the Future, which will take place from 15 to 19 March 2027 at the University of Ljubljana.

This training programme has been carefully designed by the Project Office and University Office for Research to support the continuous professional development of staff involved in the planning, implementation, dissemination, and impact management of EU-funded projects, including Erasmus+, Horizon Europe, Jean Monnet, and other European initiatives.

The sessions scheduled for Monday and Tuesday will be organised jointly with the Erasmus+ KA1 Staff Training programme, attended by participants from international offices across higher education institutions. This will provide an additional opportunity for networking, peer learning, and the exchange of good practices among professionals working in the international higher education sector.

Please find attached the general information and the preliminary programme.

Registration is now open, and you are welcome to register via the following link: Registration form

The deadline for applications is the 16 November 2026, and selected participants will be announced on the 30 November 2026.

We would be delighted to welcome you to Ljubljana for a week of learning, networking, and collaboration with colleagues from across Europe. Please share this information with colleagues and professionals who may be interested in participating in the programme.

With kind regards,

UL Project Office & University Office for Research
