Short Description of the Receiving Institution	SchauspielhausGraz is the biggest and most important place for theatre in the city of Graz. It produces performances from classical plays, musicals, light comedies, to contemporary theatre forms like performances, site specific shows, documentary theatre and more. It co-operates with various partners within the city – from freelance artists to Graz-based free theatre-groups, the opera, the youth theatre (both being part of the same administrative structure, but operating economically and artistically independent), the acting school and other institutions. Three venues within the same building offer from 50 – 550 seats, but shows also take place outside (e.g. in churches or open air in the remains of a castle). The Schauspielhaus is set up as a repertoire theatre with around 300 performances per annum, running over several seasons, if possible. Up to 25 main productions are coming out in the Schauspielhaus every season, and at the moment, we have around 90.000 visitors each year. Like in the traditional German theatre system, the Schauspielhaus Graz is fully funded by the state and the city. 130 people are working at the Schauspielhaus with fixed contracts, among them 22 actors.
