

Dear Partners,

We are happy to announce that application for International Week 2019 at Vidzeme University of Applied Sciences in Valmiera, Latvia, is open!

International Week "Simulation Based Learning" will take place from November 4 to November 8, 2019. During International Week participants will be able to attend guest lectures on various topics regarding different teaching and learning methods as well as participate in the simulation.

We invite academic and administrative personnel from our partner universities' to apply for participation in the International Week by submitting application form - <http://ej.uz/viaapply>. The topic of guest lectures should be connected to different teaching and learning methods in different fields. The application deadline is September 15, 2019. Approval letters will be sent by September 30, 2019.

There is a small participation fee of 30 EUR, which will cover networking dinner and social activities (has to be paid after approval letter is received).

For more information please see our website - <https://va.lv/en/news-events/news/announcement-international-week-2019-0>. You are welcome to distribute this information among your colleagues, who might be interested in to participate.

We are looking forward to receive your applications!

Kind regards,

Vineta Puce
International Coordinator
Vidzeme University of Applied Sciences