

Open Staff Week - "New Challenges in Unusual Times"

The Polytechnic of Leiria traditionally organizes an Open Staff Week with two components: a learning section and a cultural and social programme.

Unfortunately, this year life played a trick on us and we have to reinvent ourselves to talk about the latest trends in social media tools, and to discuss virtual mobility, the EU projects management and other important areas of our work.

We will be holding two hours long webinars during one week. Although we will be using online tools to get you up to date with changing realities, let's share our stories, and discuss pressing issues under these extraordinary circumstances we are all living. The most important thing is to learn from each other!

The Open Staff Week entitled "New Challenges in Unusual Times" takes place from the 23rd until the 27th of November 2020 and it is open up to 25 participants. The event is free of charge and it is mainly addressed to international relations officers.
