These topics offer an interdisciplinary approach that combines sustainability, inclusivity, green thinking, and cybersecurity, which are essential for the development of modern universities.

Potential Goals:

- Strengthen sustainability within the university: By implementing green thinking strategies and initiatives in both academic and administrative work;
- Promote an inclusive university environment: Ensuring that all university staff and students have access to equal resources and support, regardless of their background, abilities, or digital opportunities;
- Enhance cybersecurity awareness and resilience: Teaching university personnel to understand digital security challenges and improve resistance to cyber threats;
- Build university community resilience: Integrating sustainable, inclusive, and cyber-secure practices to create a more resilient and future-proof academic environment.
