

Staff Week Barcelona

Innovation in Higher Education

This is an International Week organized by TecnoCampus, a university center affiliated to Universitat Pompeu Fabra and a technology park. TecnoCampus brings together academia and business in a single space devoted to innovation and entrepreneurship.

This four-day program is designed for university professionals who want to promote innovation and transformation within their institutions. The sessions will focus on enhancing creativity, fostering an entrepreneurial mindset, and integrating new technologies to drive meaningful change in higher education.
