Subject: Welcome to International Teacher & Staff Exchange Week in Oulu

Hello everyone!

Oulu University of Applied Sciences welcomes you to an International Teacher and Staff Exchange Week (ITSEW), 3 – 7 April 2017. Oulu UAS has a long tradition in organizing international weeks and we welcome all the old friends as well as new acquaintances. You can find more info here: <http://oamk.fi/itsew2017>

There will be lot of different kind of activities during the week. The schedule will be updated closer to the spring.

For staff members we offer the opportunity to benchmark support services and discuss with colleagues in human resources management student services quality assurance research & development activities communication international services.

In addition, the week is a great opportunity to network and share ideas with colleagues not only from Oulu but from all over the world. We look forward to welcoming more than 100 participants this time.

April is also the time to experience the beginning of spring and returning of light after a long winter in Finland. It is warm enough for surviving, but also arctic enough to experience something special.

Unfortunately me and ms. Paula Ylipulli won't be able to host you during that week. But if you are still interested to come, please let me know so we can arrange something nice together and maybe we do little winter experience ;)

I hope to see you all in Oulu! All the best and have a nice Autumn for everybody!

Best Regards,

Ms. Milla-Maija Kemppainen
